Race for Big Prizes On; Help Your Favorite Now

Any Candidate Can Be in Lead in Monday's Count If They Try. Room for More Workers. Pay Check Every Saturday

The bars are up, the track is clear, and every one of the ambitious participants in "The Wetaskiwin Times" big "Weekly Payroll" subscription drive has the right of way. The race for the Chevrolet sedan, worth $1026 is now on in earnest.

No worker should be discouraged if they are not among the leaders now. The campaign is just in its infancy and there is not a single participant who could not, if the proper interest and effort were put into the matter, secure enough credits by next Wednesday night to be among the leaders in next Thursday's paper. In fact, an entirely new worker could enter and in a short time be among the leaders, for there are several communities that are not yet represented and which have not been solicited.

Still Time to Enter

Now is the time for those contemplating entering this race to get busy and make the dust fly. Participants receive many extra credits during their first week and the least pay any receive if they remain active, is 20 per cent cash commissions on the amount they collect, which is $1.00 out of every $5.00. This campaign is not a long drawn out affair, but will be short and snappy and gives each participant the opportunity to make big money in the next few weeks. The Chevrolet sedan is the equivalent of over $200 a week for the next five weeks' work. All are paid according to how they work, receiving 10 per cent each Saturday night. THEY set the amount of their weekly pay check.

The thing for those workers, who wish to win and WIN BIG is to rush every available subscription to the campaign department now, while the big credits are in effect. After September 25th, there is a material decrease in credits and participants secured the last week of the campaign will bring less than one-half as many credits as they do now.

How to Help Candidates

Many people throughout the country have asked how they might go about helping some candidate in this race. As this is strictly a business proposition, there is but one way to help and that is in helping them to get subscriptions to The Times. Each subscription carries with it so many credits and it takes credits to win the better prizes. Your own subscription counts.

Anyone who subscribes to The Times will receive 52 issues of the paper that is full of news—news of interest to the different communities in the trade territory of a social, personal and legal nature and current happenings of the district, and at the rate of the small sum of 4 cents a week. And at no extra cost to you is the chance to help your favorite worker win as high as a $1026 automobile.

Length of the trans-Canada highway in Alberta totals 380 miles, of which 60 miles remains to be completed, according to Hon. O. L. McPherson, minister of public works.

Of the 60 miles remaining to be completed, the entire stretch requires grading, while 25 miles needs both grading and graveling.

U.F.A. ASKS ONE DOLLAR PER ACRE FARM RELIEF

Calgary, Alta., Sept. 5.—Payment by the federal government of $1 an acre to farmers in districts of the west where it is recommended by the United Farmers of Alberta.

Directors of the U. F. A. declared aid offered by the federal government to poverty-stricken farmers was inadequate, and believed the dollar an acre payment would aid greatly farmers in dried-out sections.

Payment by the federal government of two and a half cents a bushel on freight rates on oats is also suggested.

WORK HORSE KILLED UNDER CONDITIONS OF UNUSUAL NATURE

On Sunday last, two horses belonging to Mr. Hewitt of the Dried Meat Lake district met with an accident under circumstances of a most unusual nature, which resulted in the death of one and injuries to the other. It appears that some years ago, perhaps fifteen, a barn was built by Mr. Hamilton, owner of the property which Mr. Hewitt has rented, and in laying the cement floor, an old well was covered without being first filled in. The horses had taken refuge in the barn from flies and mosquitoes and in stamping about the floor, happened to step on the spot over the well. The cement gave way and both horses were precipitated into the hole. The moaning of the animals attracted the attention of Mr. Hewitt who began to search for the cause of the sounds, finally finding the horses in the well but not before the one which had fallen in first had succumbed—Canadian.

TWO ARE HURT IN CAR CRASH NEAR LACOMBE

Lacombe, Sept. 8.—Mr. and Mrs. George Cole of Calgary are in the hospital here as a result of a car accident near Lacombe Monday night. Their three children and Gordon Sharpe of Lacombe, the driver of the other vehicle, escaped without injury.

The two cars were passing on the main highway, and in some manner, the rear fenders and wheels caught, sending Cole's machine into the ditch.

Mr. Cole is suffering from a broken arm and severe cuts about the face, while Mrs. Cole was also injured on the face and head, and had several stitches taken on her knee.

(Mr. Cole is a son of Mrs. E. D. Cole of Wetaskiwin.)

EX-MINISTER BUYS CHURCH FOR $40,000

Calgary, Sept. 2.—Said for $40,000 against the American Lutheran church has been commenced by John Oberhammer, who claims he was wrongfully dispossessed from the ministry of the church. The plaintiff also states his reputation was impaired and his means of livelihood diminished when John Fritz, Regina clergyman and president of the Canadian district of the religious body, caused his dismissal. Mr. Oberhammer, according to his complaint, was minister of Lutheran churches in Medicine Hat, Alta., and other sections of Alberta and Saskatchewan. His dismissal, he states, occurred "on or about July 16, 1930," while he was in charge of a parish in Rush Lake, Saskatchewan.

PUBLIC LIBRARY

Since the re-opening of the Library a week ago, many members have taken advantage of it.

Four new members have been enrolled, bringing the total membership since the beginning up to exactly 700.

Miss Jessie Barker, the Library Assistant, has had her hands full dusting off the heavy coating of dust on some of the heavier tomes in the history section, while she has rebound and repaired a large number of the novels and books of western cowboy stories and murder tales of the detective mystery class which are so much in vogue.

Ninety-one members took out two books each last week, while yesterday (Tuesday) which as a rule is a quiet day, saw over forty books leave the shelves with 21 borrowers in the one afternoon.

The flame of the lamp of knowledge is burning brightly and many express their gratitude when returning books they have read saying how much they have enjoyed this or that book. The Library is open now every day from 10 to 12 and 2 to 5 on Saturdays and afternoons and evenings.

NEW EXPRESS RATES

George E. Wiseman, Wetaskiwin agent for the Canadian Pacific Express Company, was advised a few days ago that the express rates between Calgary and Edmonton have been reduced considerably, the object being to give additional service to the shippers. The rates now in effect between Wetaskiwin and Edmonton are: Over 100 lbs. to 200 lbs., $1.20 per shipment; over 200 to 300 lbs., $1.30 per shipment; over 300 to 400 lbs., $1.40 per shipment; over 400 lbs., actual weight at the rate applicable to a 400 lbs. shipment.

A person can easily save the price of a year's subscription by reading the advertisements in The Times.

Weddings

LARSEN-GUNDERSEN

A beautiful wedding was solemnized on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 6th, at the Norwegian Lutheran Church, Wetaskiwin, when Miss Borghild Gundersen of the nursing staff of the Ponoka Mental Hospital, was united in marriage to Mr. Svend Larsen, a grocery merchant of Calgary.

Miss Margaret Erickson of Wetaskiwin, attended the bride, and Mr. Paul Winkle of Calgary, acted as best man. Miss Margit Fremstad of the Crooked Lake district presided at the organ. The full liturgy of the Norwegian Lutheran Church was used, Rev. O. Asper officiating.

After the ceremony, the bridal party and a few immediate relatives and friends proceeded to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Erling Johnson, a few miles east of Millet, where the wedding reception was held. Mr. Johnson is an uncle of the bride.

On the following day the happy newly-weds left for Calgary, where they will make their home. Their many friends of this vicinity heartily wish them a long and truly happy wedded life.

WOMAN ATTEMPTS MURDER HUSBAND, ENDS OWN LIFE

Hay Lakes, Sept. 8.—Mrs. Rosie Wilko, believed by police to have taken a heavy dose of lye and iodine up to her throat, was found dead in her home after she had shot her husband and left him apparently dying in the yard of their farm house, was found dead on Monday morning beside a hay stack on the farm of a neighbor here.

Investigations led to the belief that Mrs. Wilko shot her husband with a shotgun from the house while he was getting water at the well. She left him apparently dying, and started across country. It is not known definitely whether she took the poison before leaving her home or after.

Police believe that Wilko was urged to make his way to the house and lay down on a couch.

Two daughters, Helen and Irene Wilko, returned to their home shortly after 5:00 p.m. and found their father in a semi-conscious condition, badly wounded in the head. They obtained aid and rushed him to the Camrose hospital.

A search party was immediately organized to find Mrs. Wilko, but no trace of her was found until Monday morning.

An inquest was opened on Monday afternoon by Coroner Dr. P. S. Smith of Camrose, but was adjourned until September 14 without any evidence being taken.

LOCAL HUNTERS HAVE ENJOYABLE TRIP

Dr. Shillabeer, Sandy Stewart and J. W. Somers looking in the "poke," have returned from a ten day holiday trip in the mountains. They report having had a wonderful trip with ideal weather conditions prevailing. Starting from Nordegg with pack outfit and saddle horses, they went by pack trail about fifty miles into the heart of the Bighorn Range. They enjoyed good fishing, good hunting, and took many snapshots to keep fresh the memory of a trip which they suggest should be taken by every Albertan, in order to really see Nature at her "grandest." We are informed that a similar trip is planned for next year, as one of the party became so attached to an animal he picked up on the trail, that he insists a return trip must be made, to see if the party with whom it was left is taking good care of it.

CONVENTION REPORT GIVEN AT KIWANIS LUNCHEON

At the weekly luncheon of the Wetaskiwin Kiwanis Club, which was held at the Driard Hotel on Tuesday evening, a report of the convention of the Western Canada district of Kiwanis International was given by V. C. French, district trustee. The report was comprehensive and dealt with many phases of Kiwanis activities. The president, J. E. Fraser, presided, and Mrs. McMurdo was the pianist.

SEVENTEEN MONTHS ON FLOATING DOCK

London, Eng.—A huge floating dock has started on a 13,500 mile journey from England to New Zealand. Its high steel walls will be the home of eleven men during the longest low ever attempted. They will not leave the dock for seventeen months, until it reaches Wellington, New Zealand.

The voyage will not be a very comfortable one for the crew, as there is no shelter from cold or tropical sun. The dock is 654 feet long and weighs 17,000 tons.

Date Set for the Vote on New Hospital Proposition

UNION OF ALBERTA MUNICIPALITIES

On Friday last J. E. Fraser, the City Clerk, attended a conference in the Macdonald hotel, Edmonton, of the Executive of the Union of All Alberta Municipalities, and with the other members, presented a number of resolutions to Premier Brownlee and several members of the Cabinet who were present, including the Hon. R. G. Reid and Hon. George Hoadley.

Resolutions dealing with sundry phases of the business tax in towns and hospitalization and several phases of social welfare work, the cost of which should be borne by the Government and the question of the residence clause for indigents, the taxing of auto buses and trucks, the taxing of elevators and the necessity of revising the Town and Village Acts.

The Premier and his Ministers gave great consideration to the different matters brought up and recognized that there were several inconsistencies in the Town and Village Acts and concurred to a proposed committee of three members being delegated from the Union to assist Acting Deputy Minister English and other Government officials in the work of revising the Town and Village Acts. The three members of the Union appointed to act on this committee were Messrs. J. Fitzallen of Vegreville and Mr. F. H. Tucker of Castor representing the towns and Mr. L. M. Collette of Sylvan Lake representing the Villages.

Regarding the other resolutions the Premier said the Government would carefully study each of the requests and do their utmost to meet the wishes of the Cities, Towns and Villages submitting these. He promised to send the decisions on the different resolutions as soon as decided to the Secretary of the Union, J. E. Fraser, Wetaskiwin, so that all the members of the Union might be notified of the best that the Provincial Government could do for them.

SCIENTISTS HATCH CHICKS FROM EGGS IN JUST ONE DAY

London, Sept. 2.—Speed is scientists' middle name these days. High pressure "bombs" to hatch out chickens in 24 hours instead of nature's 21 days are the newest marvel to emerge from the research workers laboratories in the Imperial College of Science, South Kensington. So tremendous are the possibilities of hurrying up the process of getting born that scientists smile nervously when questioned and say "We do not know what it will mean in the future, but in may mean chickens in a single day now."

Experiments which have brought about such a revolution in farmyard production are based on the idea that if the fertilized eggs are subjected to high air pressure and kept at incubation temperature the embryo chicken will go through all its life stages in the fraction of the normal time.

One day as I chanced to pass, A beaver was damming a river. And a man who had run out of gas, Was doing the same to his liver.

HOSPITAL MEETING HELD AT BRIGHTVIEW

A meeting was held in the Brightview school on Monday evening, to consider the proposed hospital agreement. B. S. Wallis was chairman, and the schoolhouse was packed by ratepayers, who showed the keenest interest in hospital matters. H. Strohschein, Councillor, outlined the details of the proposed agreement very clearly, and Mayor Howatt and Ald. Ellis of Wetaskiwin, also spoke briefly. A number of questions were asked, and a general discussion took place. As there was no criticism of the proposal, it may be assumed that the great majority of ratepayers at the meeting are in favor of the erection of a new hospital.

Relief camps to accommodate approximately 1,500 single unemployed Saskatchewan men to be recruited from the urban centres of the province will be opened early in September.

Negotiations Under Way to Gravel Pigeon Lake Road

Negotiations between the Council of the Municipal District of Bigstone and the Public Works Department of the Provincial Government have been under way during the past week to have the main highway west to Pigeon Lake constructed up to standard grade and gravelled. A special meeting of the Council and road engineers was held about a week ago to consider the proposition but could not agree to all the details, and it looked as if the project would have to be abandoned.

However, through the efforts of H. J. Montgomery, M.L.A., the objections raised have been overcome and the agreement will be ratified at the next regular meeting of the Council on September 15th. In the meantime Hon. O. L. McPherson, Minister of Public Works, who is now in Ottawa, has been wired to and he will have this work included in the Alberta program under the Dominion Unemployment scheme. Under this plan the Dominion will pay at least 35 per cent of the cost, which will be about $100,000.00, and the balance divided equally between the Provincial Government and the Municipality.

On account of the rapidly increasing traffic over the road to Pigeon Lake, a heavy burden is imposed on the District to keep it in good travelling condition. Under the terms of the agreement, the Province furnishes the money and the Municipality repays its share in ten annual instalments without interest. These annual payments amount to less than what is now being spent by the district on this road each year, and as the Government takes it over and maintains it after construction, the district immediately benefits, and the Council is to be congratulated on bringing the negotiations to such a satisfactory conclusion.

The Council of Columbia District meets on Saturday at Battle Lake, and it is expected they will ask that the road be continued on to Windfield, and if this can be arranged it will furnish employment to a large number of men through a district where the crops have been destroyed by hail and where it is imperative that employment be furnished so that distress will be averted during the coming winter. The construction of the highway will be of immense benefit to the country west of Wetaskiwin and will make Pigeon Lake one of the most popular summer resorts in the Province.

SHEEP DOG CONTESTS
IN SCOTLAND

Dogs that to their masters are worth their weight in gold are not to be met with in the usual routine of our daily life, and so it was with considerable curiosity and pleasant anticipation that I was persuaded by country friends to spend a few days
at the Scottish National Sheep Dog Trials at Aberlady. As a townman I previously had some difficulty in appreciating the tremendous enthusiasm aroused by these promotions,
but now I heartily endorse the oft-heard declaration that a sheep dog trial "is one of the grandest sights in the world."

The manner in which the clever animals, while almost out of sight, actually upon whistled signals that many spectators had difficulty in hearing,
filled me with astonishment that created a desire to find out something more concerning the uncanny canines.

Each sheepman, it seems, has his own individual methods of training
his dogs, and interesting are the arguments of the respective "schools"
when the men of few words are involved in talk. That the education of the four-footed pupils is generally of a high standard is indicated by the fact that rich Americans consider $1000 or even more, well spent should they be fortunate enough to secure one of the Scottish prize-winners. But our shepherds do not care to part with their dogs, and so many tempting offers are turned down.

A great deal of the collie's sagacity was inborn, generations of training raising that type of animal to a remarkable standard of intelligence.
Listen as I did to the varying notes of the shepherd's whistle as he "speaks" to his dog on the distant sky line and you will agree that the well-trained collie has an understanding that is little short of human.
No animal has succeeded in co-operating with man to the same extent

as the collie, and all three experts confirmed the opinion that the Scottish sheepdog, when trained on proper lines, can carry out instructions with a degree of accuracy that is beyond many human beings. I heard the tale of the shepherd who recently confessed to his colleagues that his dog knew as much about his work
as he did himself, and my friends were not inclined to question the probability of this being so.

By way of adding to my tribute, I can record my amazement when,
with dozens of rabbits playing about right in front of the running dogs,
not one even deigned to glance at the startled bunnies as they jumped to the side. Chasing rabbits is one of the joys of a dog's life, but the collies have cultivated a marvellous restraint.

The collies certainly enter into the spirit of the competition, and they have the impression that they are quite aware of the importance of the occasion. Another interesting story I heard was of the well-known Scottish farmer who owns a dog that has won many championship awards. On numerous occasions during the past two or three years the animal has been taken to a field and set to secure sheep by way of practice for the various trials due to be overtaken. Hardly an inch would the knowing animal budge, ignoring both commands and treaties, and conveying the impression by look and conduct that it knew all there was to know in its line, and that it did not want to waste valuable time and energy. When the trials came round, however, that dog never fails to get into the prize-list, working a practice run will it tolerate! His ling with great enthusiasm, but never overly is firmly convinced that it appreciates the difference between a practice run and the real thing, for it works "like a hatter" in the trial
arena, where alone it drops all signs of laziness or indifference.

One sad memory I have of the Aberlady trials, and that is associated with "Mist," which came all the way from Arron to compete. Alister Craig's beautifully marked animal is old as sheep-watches go, and the burden of her nine years lay heavily upon her when she found herself competing against her own sturdy youngsters. "Mirk," a Scottish National cup winner, and "Craig," the British champion. Poor "Mist," fleet of foot in her day, made a great effort to maintain her record, and a dramatic hush fell over the large crowd as she went through her paces. "Mist" is not in either the

Marvellous Mexico

DOWN in Mexico, about forty miles from the city of Tehuacan, lies the Hacienda Chivila, an estate of 125,000 acres. It was given by Don Xandao Cortes by the King of Spain many years ago. Here he erected a long, white walled house which is still occupied.
Employed upon the hacienda are many men and women. Some are old, some are young and some are mere children.

Diego, a fine and worthy chap,
the yard boy, and Lucia, beautiful and comely, is one of the servants in the kitchen. Diego loved Lucia and Lucia loved Diego. Don Julio, Lucia's father, was quick to see what was happening not only about the great white walled house but in the little Zapotec village where most of the hacienda's help lived. The other servants hoped Don Julio approved, as Diego was a universal favorite.

Then there came a day when Diego, accompanied by his boy friends, came to Don Julio's little thatched cottage to ask for the hand of Lucia in marriage. The father was dignified and courteous for a time. "No," he said finally, but firmly, "you cannot marry Lucia." "Why not," said the son, "I am honest, hard-working and will always be faithful to your daughter." Then the old man blustered and stormed, "You are too ugly, go and marry a monkey." The argument became louder and more furious until Diego was dragged away by his friends.

In a few days Lucia, wonderfully and becomingly dressed and carrying some flowers in a beautifully painted gourd, stood at the crossing in front of her father's house. Diego appeared riding upon a pony and followed by his friends whose horses trotted along behind.
As the cavalcade was about to rush down the trail with the captured bride-to-be, Don Julio burst in upon the scene, slashed his machete right and left, cursed and demanded. He was too late.

After Lucia had remained three or four days with Diego's aunt in a neighboring village, her father found her and with much injured dignity demanded that Diego marry her at once.
The wedding festa lasted three days without a break. Don Julio was the most interested participant and, if possible, the happiest man of the party. In fact several times he had been fearful of the outcome of the courtship he had always watched with growing interest and fondness how.
The ancient Mexican custom, inherited from old Spain, however,
had to be observed.

This interesting incident, related at some considerable length by Emma-Lindsay Squier, who visited the hacienda a few months ago, gives one but a mere glimpse at marvellous Mexico. It serves, however, to attach a greater interest to the wonderful exhibit now being prepared by Mexico for the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference to be held at Regina in 1932. It will occupy a frontage of seventy-five feet. To see it will be next best to a visit to the country itself.

in 1895. In 1902 he moved to Saskatchewan with his parents and received his early education in the

vince.

In 1923 he graduated from the Ontario Agricultural College, after which he taught school in Saskatchebandry at the School of Agriculture, Claresholm, Alberta, and for nearly three years as district agriculturalist at Hanna, Alberta.

NOISY MOTORIST, GIVEN
WARNING BY AUTHORITIES

A code of noise etiquette for automobile drivers which would not only be a boon to the nerves of the community in general, but to the motorist himself, was suggested by George McNamee, secretary of the Royal Automobile Club of Canada. In discussing the noise caused by unnecessary noises of automobiles. Mr. Mc-Namee pointed out that some measures must be taken to lessen the noises if motorists are to avoid having a law passed which will make it compulsory to take measures which might be expensive and vexatious.

The inconsiderate horn blower
is, perhaps, the most obnoxious
of all disturbers of the peace, it was declared. There is a law against the unnecessary blowing of horns, but it is "violated every day
by hundreds. The use of a horn when necessary" would help towards the abolition of this nuisance.

Some of the other rules of noisy-etiquette follow: It is an unusual noise appears in the motor, have it investigated immediately; see that the car is greased as often as recommended by the manufacturer; if the car shows a tendency to backfire, take it to mechanic immediately; make sure the muffler is functioning properly; as soon as a squeak or a rattle appears in the body of the car, have the trouble corrected.

Motorists might avoid the anti-noise regulations by voluntarily becoming less noisy. It has been estimated that it is within their power to reduce noisiness by 80 per cent.

W.C.T.U. ESSAY CONTEST

The following essay was written by George Taylor, Grade VII, in the recent W.C.T.U. Essay Contest:
FIVE REASONS WHY HIGHWAYS
SHOULD BE DRYWAYS

The following reasons are submitted as being among the myriad of reasons why "Highways Should Be Dryways."

1.—With the constant addition of more and better roads, larger and faster automobiles, it is necessary that every operator of a motor vehicle should be held to the strictest of laws in order that he may have a clear brain and thus avoid accidents and do his part to facilitate the orderly movement of traffic.

2.—Science has proven that liquor taken internally almost immediately is absorbed into the blood vessels and thus saturates the brain and the heart. Even small quantities are known to have destroyed man's ability to think and act quickly and intelligently in an emergency. One need not be "drunk" in the accepted

Mr. Gray's home is in Grey County, Ontario, where he was born in 1895. In 1902 he moved to Sas-

vince.

sense of that word to be unfit to operate a car on the highway, as a slowing down of one's mental and physical co-ordination invariably is fatal in a crisis.

3.—Highways are for the use of any and all of the citizens who may have occasion to use them and no individual has the right to jeopardize
the life, limb and property of another.
Many times the one responsible for an accident (due to intoxicants) is the only one to emerge unscathed, thus unjustly penalizing those who comply with the law and rules governing highways.

4.—The railroad engineer is denied the right to take even one drink of liquor, yet his engine runs on a steel track, requires no manipulation of steering gear, has no ruts or chuck holes to bother him, does not have to face glaring head-lights while judging the distance in passing another vehicle.

Notwithstanding this, we find many drivers who have all of the above responsibilities, partaking of liquor. A violation of the law (driving while under the influence of liquor) should cause suspension for one year for the first offense and a suspension for life on a second offense.

5.—Each day sees an increasing amount of traffic, both business and pleasure, upon our highways, and if each and all of us are to be assured of our inherent right of safety on the public highways, then the law must not "wink" at violation because they may be good fellows, or the sons, brothers, husbands or sweethearts of some particular person or persons.
Rather, to insure such good conduct the law should be enforced without fear or favor and the law should be so worded that the arresting officer
need not prove a man to be "drunk"
but merely that he had partaken of intoxicating liquor previous to his advent upon the public highways,
whether the liquor consumed be one or a dozen glasses. One bullet seldom kills more than a single person, yet one drink has been known to wreck an entire family when the one who took the drink caused a serious crash.

ANOTHER OLD-TIMER

A Wetaskiwin member, having read the recent article on an Old-Timer in the Service, contributes some notes
on Louis Leda Hanna, Acting Sheriff
of the Wetaskiwin Judicial District, who, he states, has to his credit perhaps one of the longest continuous records as a civil servant in the Province of Alberta.

Mr. Hanna, commonly known as "Lou," was appointed Sheriff in the days of the old Territorial Council in July, 1889. He was then attached to the office of the late Sheriff Robertson and covered a territory the size of a small empire, bounded on the north by Leduc, on the south by Lacombe, on the west by the peaks of the Rocky Mountains, and on the east
by a line approximating the present
inter-provincial boundary.

Lou belongs to the adventurous type of pioneer whose courage
brought them to the unsettled places

A FRIENDLY INSECT DESTROY-ING CANADIAN THISTLES

Farmers from widely scattered points in Manitoba and Saskatchewan have forwarded to our Research Department specimens of caterpillars with the information that these insects are effectively destroying Canadian thistles.

Professor McChesner, entomologist
of the Manitoba Agricultural College, classifies these caterpillars as those of the thistle butterfly, "Vanessa cardui," and states that they feed upon Canadian thistles and are not destructive to cereal crops, and also that this year they have been wide spread in many parts destroying large areas of Canadian thistle.

Considering the large toll taken from the farmers' crops by such destructive insects as cut worms, saw flies, wire worms, grasshoppers, etc.,
it is a relief to find at least one species of insect that instead of harming the farmer is actually assisting
him in his task of weed destruction,
particularly with such a dangerous
weed as the Canadian thistle.

Mr. George Chaverton, Renfrew,

covered with sore pimples which no treatment I had tried would rid me of them. Then there came a day when a friend suggested I try Burdock Blood Bitters. Well, I did, and after the first bottle my face was fairly well cleared up of the pimples, and I was feeling that I had more life in me, and before the end of the second bottle I was like a different man, full of energy, and could eat, sleep and work like a young man of twenty-five should.
I have the third bottle on hand,
not that I need a tonic, but I intend to always take an occasion-

the skin I have acquired with its help."

MYSTERY SHROUDS

FATE OF FARMER

Winfield, Sept. 8.—Fred Schroeder, who disappeared from his home northeast of the Yorkford post office early in July, is still missing despite a rigid investigation and search conducted by Alberta provincial police officers.

Authorities believe that the man, who suffered from sudden attacks of illness, may have collapsed in the bush, or expired while attempting to get to Yorkford when he felt an attack approaching. There is a considerable amount of brush in the area and it is pointed out that if he died in the maze of underbrush it may be months before his body is found.

Schroeder's house was in perfect order, but the last entry, made early in July, in his weather diary indicated that he was not feeling well. He lived alone.

Reappearance of his rifle, found missing when searches went to the house, caused uneasiness for a time until it was learned that one of the men in the party had found it in the yard and had replaced it.

Schroeder, it is understood in the district, was expecting payment of money from his former home in Iowa, and as a result of this there was a belief at first that he may have met with foul play, but the sudden illness theory is now generally accepted.

HOTBED SOILS AND THEIR PREPARATION

(Experimental Farms Note)

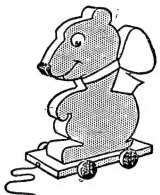

Just as good seed of the best varieties is important to the success of plant production, properly prepared soil plays an important part in the growing of good healthy plants. While it is true that almost any soil of a light nature is fairly satisfactory in which to start plants yet there comes a time in the development of these plants when the most exacting requirements must be fulfilled, and, unless the soil is prepared in such a way as to meet those requirements the plants may fail to make proper growth or be a total failure.

Physically hotbed soil must be of a light or loamy nature with fibre in sufficient quantity to act as a sponge to hold water and to keep the soil in good open condition. The fibre should be the residue from grass roots or other healthy plant growth and vegetable matter. Besides keeping the soil open, fibre also forms the basis of humus supply and a harbor for friendly bacteria.

Where the texture of the soil is not right, soil amendments may be necessary in the form of clean washed river sand, which should be added in sufficient quantity to make certain that the soil will drain off all excess water and allow the proper aeration which is so essential to the proper growth of the plant. The proper amount of sand to add to the soil can be easily determined by taking a handful of the mixture, that has the minimum moisture content and pressing it firmly in the hand. When released it should crumble easily when light pressure is applied with the thumb. Should the soil remain in a compact lump or break up into coarse hard pieces more sand will be required to make it friable and open.

To obtain a soil of even consistency, the ordinary run of field soil will not be found to suffice. The use of piled green sods is by far the most satisfactory means of insuring a supply of soil with fibre and humus. The sod should be cut from a light clay loam soil at a time when there is a growth of about six inches of grass. In cutting sods remove about four inches of soil with the grass. As soon as possible these sods should be hauled and piled with the grass side down, in a square, even pile, layer about, with manure that has been well-rotted, so that when the pile is completed it should be about five feet high. Sods piled during June and July would be ready for slicing down a year later or in the autumn. This may seem a long time to wait for soil for special work, but where the best results are to be obtained it really pays to wait.

In preparing the soil from a year old pile of sod it is important that the sod pile be sliced down in thin slices from the top of the pile to the bottom, thus the soil and manure layer will be cut through and when thrown up in a heap will become evenly mixed. The first cutting should be done during August or September. The pile of cut sod should be turned again and pulverized in the process of turning, after which it should be stored in a frost proof place for early spring use. If

CHILDREN CRY FOR IT—

CHILDREN hate to take medicine as a rule, but every child loves the taste of Castoria. And this pure vegetable preparation is just as good as it tastes; just as bland and just as harmless as the recipe reads.

When Baby's cry warns of colic, a few drops of Castoria has him soothed, asleep again in a jiffy. Nothing is more valuable in diarrhea. When coated tongue or bad breath tell of constipation, involve its gentle aid to cleanse and regulate a child's bowels. In colds or children's diseases, you should use it to keep the system from clogging.

Castoria is sold in every drugstore; the genuine always bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature.

the soil lacks porosity, add sand as previously mentioned and any other additions the growers feel that should be made such as steamed bone meal or flour.

The hotbed soil should be the best for the purpose that can be obtained, and in no wise should it be a mere makeshift. The success or failure of a high priced crop may depend to a large degree upon the amount of preparation given. Sods that are too fine in texture will not drain properly, while the soil may be rich enough in plant food and merely require the addition of sand. On the other hand a deficiency of humus will have a tendency to allow the soil to compact and not allow proper distribution of moisture and prevent even root development.

It is very important that a soil for hotbed work be carefully prepared so as to have the greatest uniformity in texture, brought about by the proper consistency of ingredients.

CANADA REPORTS

530,000 JOBLESS

Ottawa, Sept. 4th.—Canada's unemployed exceed 530,000, according to

to Hon. G. D. Robertson, minister of labor.

The minister Friday issued figures compiled by provincial governments. In the majority of provinces the totals are based upon registration, and in others careful estimates have been made.

All the provinces of Canada are covered in figures which the minister gave out. Senator Robertson said these figures would probably be swelled in the winter months when seasonal unemployment would become an increasing factor in the situation.

THANKSGIVING DAY SET BY ORDER FOR OCTOBER 12

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—Thanksgiving day will be celebrated this year on October 12. Official announcement of the passing of an order-in-council to this effect was made Saturday morning. Fixing of a date by order-in-council for the observance of Thanksgiving day separate from Remembrance day is a departure from the former practice. Remembrance day will be commemorated each year on November 11.

THE PROPOSED NEW HOSPITAL

To the Editor:

Dear Sir: Last week, through the agency of your columns, the people had an opportunity of seeing two statements on the above important subject.

Mr. A. A. Ellis, Chairman of the Hospital Board, rendered an official report based on the facts of the situation, pointing out the utter unsuitability of the present hospital building for which purpose it is presently used. We were told that the Provincial Health authorities had practically condemned the whole structure, except the four brick walls, for hospital use.

On the other hand, my friend, Mr. Geo. F. Root, in his enthusiasm for dollar economy ignored those human economies in life, health and well-being which are bound up in the hospital question. He advanced impractical suggestions with regard to structural alterations which would aggravate rather than obviate the fire-risk to which departmental attention has been, at last paid. The introduction of an elevator shaft in an old and cheaply constructed hotel building would add to the fire-risk. For it is well known that elevator shafts have many times served as a flue by which disastrous flames have quickly spread to all parts of buildings, whose construction included wooden joists, floors and partitions.

It is safe to say that adequate reconstruction of the present hospital building, if it were possible, would cost as much as a new hospital and would not be satisfactory; first because rent would still have to be paid and secondly, on account of its very unsuitable location with regard to distressing noises from the operations of the nearby railway yards.

Of the practical realities of the hospital situation, Mr. Root made no mention. The responsible government authorities are uncompromising in their condemnation of the present hospital and have discouraged any hope that the present hospital-building can be so altered to meet proper conditions for a hospital. The fact that stares the community in the face is, that if we are to continue to have a hospital, a new one must be built. The alternative is, that we shall have to depend for hospital service on Edmonton institutions at greater individual expense as well as medico- and family inconvenience. The Wetaskiwin hospital building, as such, stands condemned and it is no use blinking that fact.

At the present time, under provisions for unemployed relief, a promise has been made that handsome contributions toward the labor costs on a new hospital will be made from both the Dominion and Provincial Governments. The cost of materials at another time is not likely to be less than now. And economies to be achieved in a modern institution will largely discount the annual capital charges which will have to be met, and these on a quarter section of land will not be more than the average man spends on tobacco in a month.

Yours sincerely,

J. H. HODSON.

Editor, Wetaskiwin Times:

Do the ratepayers of the Municipalities of Bigstone and Montgomery desire to assume the burden of taxation to build a new hospital? It is a notable fact, that of all the farmers surrounding Leduc, Millet, Ponoka, Blackfalds, Lacombe, Morningside, Red Deer and Wetaskiwin, the residents of these two municipalities are the only ones upon whom any hospital levy is proposed.

Is it the purpose of the Minister of Health to permit discrimination against particular districts in the administration of his department? It is true that a Municipal Hospital in this area was voted down last year and probably would not carry it re-voted. But the farm hospital units of the Red Deer area—this is a city of practically the same size as Wetaskiwin—twice voted down a Municipal Hospital at Red Deer, after which the matter was adjusted by remodelling and enlarging the $9,000 Memorial Hospital owned by that city and converting it into an urban hospital operating under the Municipal Hospital Act of Alberta. This provides for the voluntary participation of all rural ratepayers as well as wage-earners in both the support and benefit of the urban hospital upon payment of a stated annual fee, paid in advance, on a given date.

It is probably the most successful, prosperous and up-to-date hospital in Alberta, and last year was placed on the fully approved list of the American College of Surgeons, as coming up to their strict requirements of equipment, medical staff work, hospital management and nursing service. You will observe that brick and cement are not in this list.

This institution has received the commendation and cordial support of the surrounding rural communities. The report of 1930 showed that of the 637 patients admitted, only 238 were from urban municipalities. Financially, this type of hospital has been a success. As early as 1927 the tax levy for hospital purposes was reduced to 1 mill, and the hospital rates to non-hospital supporters were the lowest of any municipal hospital in Alberta. Their constant effort has been to make Red Deer hospital a worthy institution. In the last eight years they have spent $15,000 on improvements to the building, grounds and equipment. Among the latter a chite was built at the end of the building for the escape of patients. The Provincial Fire Inspector pronounced this the best fire escape he had seen in Alberta, and the Hon. George Hoadley will undoubtedly tell you that this is the outstanding success in community hospital endeavor to the credit of his administration.

What about Wetaskiwin and the farmers of Montgomery and Bigstone Municipalities? We have been credibly informed that in the year 1925, the City of Wetaskiwin agreed to buy the property formerly known as the Prince of Wales hotel, and being rented by the City at that time for a hospital, for the sum of $18,000, payable $125 per month in rental form. The city was to pay the taxes also. Certain arrears of taxes due at that time were cleaned up, the monthly payments were regularly made, the taxes were taken care of and there is now only the sum of $3700 outstanding, which will be cleaned off by 30 months further pay.

The City of Wetaskiwin has done little during these years toward improving its building or installing equipment for safety of patients and economy of heat, etc. But it has a bona fide sinking fund of better than $10,000 and the Ladies' Hospital Aid are in funds of $1,000 for furnishings. And it has been decided that a new hospital shall be built, the Municipalities bearing the bulk of cost as stated above.

The necessity for immediate action, so immediate, that we will have crystallized performance in advance of all legal rights, is the statement of this building has been condemned and the hospital must be closed at once, so we have got to have a new hospital.

Investigation shows that the Fire Department does not investigate and condemn buildings except by invitation. Now what interested party was at the bottom of this? In an editorial of August 28th appearing in The Times, Mayor Howatt is represented as vigorously saying "It was not I." Under this condemnation no insurance policies have been cancelled, the proprietors of the building have not been notified, and the "Commissioner" will probably allow patients to take this serious fire risk for so long a time as it would take to erect a new building. The top floor is already closed to patients, though it is the same top floor that was there when this building was rented for hospital use first by the Dominion Government for convalescent soldiers and later by the City of Wetaskiwin before it took over the building as a purchase.

It does not appear that this "City hospital condemned and ordered to be closed" will be any pecuniary disadvantage to the holders of this $18,000 property, as all that is demanded of the City is that the Mayor "alter the occupancy of the building, structure or place of that part now used as a hospital on or before the 9th of September, 1931 and it is further directed that the cost of complying with this order shall be finally borne by the City of Wetaskiwin, the M.D. of Montgomery and the M.D. of Bigstone. Is this a legal notice? It or Wetaskiwin.

was issued the 9th of July. Was there a secret agreement of the three districts mentioned that the municipalities would share in this expense prior to the condemnation proceedings? Were they to be burdened with this class of city expenses, prior to a formal agreement to unite with the city in this hospital movement, ratified by the ratepayers. Let your Reeves state definitely the total obligations to which they propose bonding us, prior to voting on the matter.

GEO. F. ROOT.

SPORT

GAME BIRDS NUMBER SEEN CUT IN HALF

Normal duck and geese population of Southern Alberta has been cut by 50 per cent owing to the dry weather which has generally prevailed during the past few months, while millions of fish in streams and pools which have become shallow and in some cases have dried up, have perished.

These were the opinions expressed Wednesday by Major G. H. School, Peace River, special fisheries officer in Western Canada and game guardian for Alberta, who has just completed an extensive tour throughout southern sections of Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Owing to the drying up of many sloughs and pools of open water, young of water fowl were unable to survive after hatching, according to Major School. Lack of food also caused the death of numbers of fully-grown birds, he said.

WEEKLY STOCK MARKET REPORT

The following is a weekly report from the Edmonton Stock Yards, as supplied to The Times for the week ending September 8th:

Receipts: Cattle, 590; calves, 188; hogs, 2489; sheep, 652. Buyers are not quite so keen in their wants. In consequence there is not the same brisk tone to the market as was noticeable last week. Trading is only fair and although salesmen are moving their offerings yet, in spots, the market is showing drag. Sales so far this week indicate that prices are holding barely steady. Butcher heifers are showing a fairly firm tone, whereas, steers are weak to a quarter lower, especially on medium and intermediate kinds.

Choice lightweight cattle on the fed calf order are selling from $5.00 to $5.50, bulk of the good to choice butcher steers $4.50 to $5.00, medium kinds $3.75 to $4.25 and common to fair from $2.50 to $3.50. Good to choice heavyweight butcher heifers $4.25 to $4.75, mediums $3.75 to $4.00. Good heavy heifers $3.25 to $3.50, common to fair $2.50 to $3.00, odd heavyweight choice cows up to $3.00. Bulk of the good $2.50 to $2.75, common to medium from $1.50 to $2.25. Canners and cutters 75c to $1.25, bulls $1.25 to $1.75.

There is a good demand in evidence for all classes of stocker cattle but especially cows and heifers. Prices on this class remain fully steady to stronger, especially for good bred kinds. Steers and heifers going generally at $3.00 to $3.50, odd ones bringing a little more, stocker cows from $1.50 to $2.50.

Calf market fully steady and unchanged. Good to choice light calves $5.00 to $6.00, common to medium $3.50 to $4.50.

No carloads of hogs so far this week for sale. At the close of last week carloads were selling at $5.35. Today, Tuesday, local and trucked in sold at $5.10 for the bacon. Selected bringing a premium of 60c per 100 and butchers selling at a discount of 50c per 100. Following are the cuts on the off-grade hogs: Heavies $1.50 per 100, extra heavies $3.50 flat. No. 1 sows $3.00 flat, and other sows $2.50 flat.

Sheep and lamb market remains fairly steady, although trading is none too brisk or keen. Lambs quoted at $4.50 to $5.25, yearlings $3.00 to $4.00 and ewes $1.50 to $2.50.

TUBERCULOSIS IN CHILDREN

Children have tuberculosis just as adults do. They are not born with the disease; they contract it after they are born. Providing proper care is taken children do not contract tuberculosis. The disease still occurs because either through ignorance or carelessness, the necessary care is not taken.

There is no mystery surrounding the manner in which children get tuberculosis. The disease is caused by a germ, the tubercle bacillus. This germ can neither fly nor crawl. It is only one way in which it can travel and reach the child, and that is by being carried along in the sputum from someone who has tuberculosis. The person who has active tuberculosis, whether or not he knows he has the disease, has the germ of the disease in his sputum. When he coughs or sneezes he spreads the germs. The saliva he leaves on eating or drinking utensils contains germs, his kisses also help to spread the disease.

Children cannot protect themselves, they are dependent upon adults for protection, consequently adults should take more precautions to safeguard the children. Careless coughing and spitting must stop. If it is necessary to cough, then the nose and mouth should be covered with a handkerchief. If expectoration is necessary, the material expectorated should be properly collected and destroyed by fire. Common eating and drinking utensils should not be tolerated and a child should never be kissed on the mouth.

To save children, we must become destroyers of germs and we must refuse to do anything which allows these enemies to pass from one person to another. Tuberculosis can not occur if the germ of the disease are not spread, and the germs will not spread if we act in such a way that the secretions from our noses and mouths are not spread from us to others.

When tuberculosis occurs among young children, it means that someone with whom they have been in frequent contact has the disease. The older person may not know it, because tuberculosis is, in many cases, a long chronic disease, and the person may just feel poorly and does not suspect that he has a serious disease, one which is serious to both himself and to others.

Children who have been exposed to tuberculosis, through living in the home with an adult who has the disease should be given special care. Such children should, of course, be examined from time to time to keep a check on their condition.

Tuberculosis is one disease which is greatly influenced, if not entirely controlled by the general health of the individual. The child who receives proper food, sufficient rest, fresh air and sunshine is not likely to develop the disease. On the other hand, the disease is very apt to progress in the undernourished tired child who is in that condition because of the lack of proper food, rest, fresh air and sunshine.

Questions concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

TENTH FORTNIGHTLY — CROP REPORT

(Issued by the Department of Agriculture, Edmonton, Alberta, Sept. 5, 1931.)

Wheat cutting is 90 per cent. completed in the southern part of the province and in the Peace River district. In Central and Northern Alberta where continued rains have delayed ripening and harvesting, not more than 50 per cent. of the cutting has been done. Threshing is well advanced in the south. In the area lying south of Calgary and west of Lethbridge, many summerfallow areas are yielding from 25 to 30 bushels per acre of high grade wheat. Yields from spring-cultivated lands are light. Threshing is in progress in the Peace River district. Yields are satisfactory but quality has suffered from heat and drought during the ripening period. Very little frost damage is reported.

Oats and barley have ripened rapidly in the past ten days and a considerable acreage has been cut.

Yields of coarse grains will be satisfactory in all parts of the province with the exception of the East-Central and south-eastern areas.

An excellent second cutting of alfalfa has been harvested in the irrigated districts. Sugar beets are progressing favorably although yields will be slightly below those of last year.

Alfalfa and sweet clover seed crops give evidence of heavy yields. Potato and root crops are in satisfactory condition.

Acids In Stomach Cause Indigestion

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the case of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get your own drug store some Blaud's Magnesia and take a teaspoonful of powder or four tablets in water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Blaud's Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

SELECTION AND CARE OF THE BOAR

(Experimental Farm Notes)
The season is now at hand for the selection of spring-bred boars to be used for breeding purposes. Boars should be picked from large litters of thirty pigs and from strong, sturdy, which have produced large, uniform litters for a generation or two back. The boar is half the herd with respect to transmission of heritable characteristics from parent to offspring and therefore in selecting the boar it pays to know something of the type and feeding qualities of his ancestry.

In choosing a young boar considerable attention should be given to the selection of one that conforms to select bacon type and is typical of the breed of which he is a representative. A boar with a "breedy" appearance is likely to produce more uniform progeny than will be reared from a boar that is plain and lacking in character.

The boar selected for breeding purposes should be masculine in appearance and well developed for his age. As to individuality, he should have a strong constitution combined with reasonable good length and depth of side with a nicely arched back, a straight underline, and a light, smooth jaw and shoulder. He should possess abundance of quality and show evidence of being a good feeder.

Probably nothing is more essential to the health and vigour of the boar than exercise. During the summer months the boars at the Dominion Experimental Station, Lacombe, are allowed the run of a small field sown to clover or annual pasture, with a cabin for shelter. The green pasture not only cuts down the amount of feed required but also provides the boars with succulence and a variety of feed which tends to keep them in a healthy and vigorous condition. In winter the boars are provided with roomy, dry, well-bedded pens for sleeping quarters with adjoining yards for exercise. They are fed outdoors at some distance from their sleeping quarters, thus compelling them to take exercise.

An important consideration in the care of the boar is the feed. He should be kept in a thrifty condition but not fat. He should not be fed exclusively on a grain ration but must have some muscle and bone-building material if he is to transmit the maximum of vigour and constitution to his progeny. This he can obtain from skim-milk, tankage, or legume hay. A satisfactory grain ration is one made up of two parts ground oats and one part ground barley, fed dry. During the winter months bran or roots of any kind make a desirable addition to the ration, as they provide bulk and tend to keep the digestive system in good condition.

Edmonton, Aug. 28.—There is a nip in the air these late summer days and the "boes" are heading for warmer climes. It is estimated that more than 500 drifters and bobbers have departed from this city for distant parts, mostly west and south, during the past two weeks.

ARTICLE III. HOW AND WHEN TO CUT A WINNING SAMPLE

At this date the writer has just returned home from a 2500 mile circle tour of observation taking in the length and breadth of Canada's Great Central Plain agricultural area. Sizing up conditions from the worst, comprising the central south, lying mostly in Saskatchewan and gradually passing to the best, which in general contour takes the shape of a gigantic crescent with its extreme tips pointing south to the American boundary and extending northward along Alberta side of the Rocky Mountains; but by far the larger part of this promising crescent shaped crop area lies in the broad strip of partially wooded park land which extends all the way across the north of the Western provinces. In no locality did the writer find a condition of quality productivity where winning samples for the World's Grain Show could, by good luck or little concentrated effort, fall easily into the lap of the prospective exhibitor. Even away up in the supposedly charmed land known as "The Great Peace River Country," Mother Nature is portioning out her "milk and honey" very sparingly. So, Mr. Prospective World Exhibitor, we must first humble down to the most gigantic and surely the most profitable and spectacular game of "hide and seek" that Mother Nature ever played with a bunch of seed growers, and see what we can find. This year of all years—it is going to be a tricky, ticklish proposition, but the sacrificing, patient observer who sticks to his guns will be sure to win a crown for his determined efforts.

Following up the line of thought in my second article, first humble down to the most gigantic and surely the most profitable and spectacular game of "hide and seek" that Mother Nature ever played with a bunch of seed growers, and see what we can find. This year of all years—it is going to be a tricky, ticklish proposition, but the sacrificing, patient observer who sticks to his guns will be sure to win a crown for his determined efforts.

to ripen so hard that it takes considerable pressure with the thumb nail to make a dent in the kernel. This stage will NEVER be reached until the straw is also ripe. The best possible stage, therefore, and the best sign to decide harvesting is when you make sure that both the kernel, and the head, and the straw (above the third joint from the top), are dead ripe. This stage always comes a few hours before one can see a faint blueness in the color of the head. When this stage is reached, the exhibitor obtains his best possible sample, with maximum weight and most brilliant and lasting color. When this stage passes by the head begins more and more to droop, and very small spots like mildew appear on the head. Then the first signs of loss of color will begin in the kernel. This is ALWAYS to be looked for on the first morning after the head, and the kernels therein are really dead ripe. Wheat harvested soon after this dead ripe stage gives, what the writer considers, a very superior sample even though there may be a very slight sacrifice in lustre.

Oats should be cut when the head has a perfect ripe color (not necessarily the straw) and stands erect. Then examine minutely the lower kernels on the spikelets where the green tips on the seed and should just faintly be detected. After this the color changes very quickly.

Now you are ready for the harvest. This should be done with the binder. Be sure it is dry, or best a sunny afternoon between two and four o'clock. It is then done safely and quickly. Do not make the bundles large. Tie as close to the heads as practical to hold the straw together. Figure on 60 to 100 sheaves. In case of wheat each will provide for 4 to 6 pounds of nice grain. Oats will provide about a pound and a half lighter yield, and barley about the same so oats. It will be explained later how most of the tedious work of hand-picking may be eliminated by having plenty of volume to work on.

If it is decided to leave the sheaves in the open field be sure to have ample and safe covering for protection from the night dew or sudden changes in weather. The writer never takes any chances with a head of grain, and always covers it with a tarpaulin and sheds, away from direct exposure, where they may be placed. The open stock formation on the dry ground or floor, or if there is still danger of excessive moisture evaporating from the straw, he hangs them up, heads down.

Now, Mr. Prospective Exhibitor, you may relax for a day or so, perhaps feel relieved, and thank good Mother Nature for the generous way in which she has co-operated with you.

From now on you have more or less the controlling hand, but watch your step. The cat will not be in the bag until you tie the string on for the great World's Grain Exhibition next year.

Article No. 4 will deal with "Curing and Threshing a Prize Sample."

FIRST VIEW OF RAILROAD COACH THRILLS NATIVES

Churchill, Man., Sept. 4.—Native inhabitants of Manitoba's northern seaport, glimpsed at a special train for the first time on Thursday. When the members of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce on their tour of inspection arrived here this morning, Indians and Eskimos swarmed round the shiny steel coaches, and insisted on shaking hands with A. E. Warren, Winnipeg, vice-president, Canadian National Railways, whom they called "the big boss." He personally showed a wondering crowd through the train and enjoyed immensely their exclamations of delight at each new discovery.

Dog teams and snow plows, they were used to— even airplanes pass by overhead unheeded—but to the

"How do you get him to chew his food?"

"I give him Shredded Wheat and it's so crisp he has to chew it—the more he chews it, the better he likes it and the more nutriment he gets out of it. Many children bolt down their food without chewing—that means imperfect digestion, poor teeth and unhealthy gums. Shredded Wheat with milk makes a perfect food for growing children, and it's perfectly delicious with bananas or stewed fruit."

Indians and Eskimos, the sight of the all-steel modern Canadian National railway equipment brought gasps of amazement and awe. Conductors and porters had their hands full when word spread of the wonder cars in which the white man travelled. To the Indian and Eskimo mind, a train was something to hunt freight and supplies, and if a human wanted to travel, why he just climbed in with the cargo, spread his blanket and got along as best he could.

But this was magic—Separate rooms, running hot and cold water, electric lights, sleeping bunks that folded up in the day time, even cabins which would hold one or three people, a car where meals were brought you—wonderful. But the native mind was not so far out; it was a wonderful train, and it will be many a day before the north sees another train made up with just quite the same gallop of first class travelling equipment.

Mrs. Shanter came into the house in a great state of alarm.

"Tammam, Tammam," she exclaimed, "there's a cow in the garden." "Dinna stand here wastin' valuable time," replied Tammam, "get back and milk it before it gets out."

The Mother of Seven Children Used It for Diarrhoea

Mrs. Day Drishman, R.R. No. 2, Hagersville, Ont., writes—"I am the mother of seven children, and last summer one of them, 17 months old, was taken very sick with diarrhoea, and I thought she was going to die. "My husband went 7 miles to see what my sister had given her baby, and he came home with a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Kidney & Bladder Pills. I gave the child a few doses and she was soon well again. "My other children also had diarrhoea at that time and I gave them 'Dr. Fowler's' with the same result."

Annual School Fair Is a Great Success

The Millet School Fair which was held on Thursday was one of the most successful ever held in the community, the exhibits being of a very high quality, while the entries were quite numerous. Especially is this so in the vegetable classes, as there were about ninety entries in carrots and nearly as many in the cabbage and beet classes, also twenty-two calves, twenty-eight hogs, six lambs, three colts and over a hundred of choice poultry. The judges, therefore, had no little task in making the awards. Government officials who were present at the fair were very complimentary in their comments about the exhibits, claiming that the Millet Fair was among the best in the Province.

A parade of the school districts was held in the forenoon, with seven districts competing. Great care had been taken in the preparation for this artistically arranged, and as they proceeded through the principal streets of the village, they created a great deal of interest and enthusiasm. The awards in the parade were made as follows:

1—Millet Intermediate, 95 points;
2, Millet Primary, 92 points; 3, Hillside, 90 points.

The first event of the afternoon was the competition in physical training, when the different schools competing staged a very fine exhibition. The awards were made as follows:

A WORD OF WARNING

Four prominent business men escaped very serious injury by the narrowest margin on Monday evening, as they were crossing the Calgary highway at the corner of Tinsley Avenue. A car was approaching from the south, at a rapid rate, and it was only by the quickest manipulation of the car by the Wetaskiwin driver that a collision was avoided. As it is impossible to see cars approaching from the south at this intersection, we would strongly advise all motorists to stop at this corner before crossing over, as with the loose gravel, it would be difficult to avoid a collision if cars met traveling at a rapid rate of speed. We are of the opinion that this same warning will apply at the junction of Pearce street and the Calgary-Edmonton road near the water tower.

BIG FUTURE SEEN
FOR HUDSON PORT

Churchill, Sept. 4.—If the success of the new Manitoba seaport of Churchill depends on the Canadian business man then its future is assured. This was the sentiment of members of the Canadian chamber of commerce pre-convention tour, who spent an entire day inspecting the Churchill harbor project.

The great new elevator on its last stage of completion, the harbor, the picturesque townsite and the rail yards were all thoroughly inspected by the visitors who arrived here this morning.

At a luncheon tendered the delegates by the Carter-Hall-Aldinger company, leaders of the association predicted a great future for the new development.

Premier J. T. M. Anderson of Saskatchewan, J. H. Woods of Calgary, dominion president of the chamber, Hon. D. G. McKenzie, Manitoba minister of mines and natural resources, and many members of the dominion chamber, predicted a most successful future for the new seaport.

All the speakers summarized their remarks with the idea that 'what is good for Manitoba is good for Canada.'

What Is a "Club"?

A "club" in The Times circulation campaign is any combination of subscriptions that totals $20 in cash. For every "club" or every $20 reported, a candidate receives 50,000 extra credits.

For instance two 5-year subscriptions, either old or new, is a "club" of $20 for which the extra 50,000 credits are issued. Ten 1-year subscriptions make a "club" or five 2-year subscriptions, are all examples of how these extra credits count up.

Sell a "Club" Each Day
Candidates, when you start out each morning make up your mind that you will sell a "club" before you quit that night. If you can do this you will surely be among the winners. Set yourself a goal to reach, then see how close you can make the mark. "Nothing ventured, nothing gained," here is the chance to inspire confidence in your own ability.

You are the person who has to decide whether you'll make it or toss it aside.

You are the person who makes up your mind whether you'll lead or linger behind.

Whether you'll try for the goal that's afar.

Or just be content to stay where you are.

Take it or leave it—here's something to do.

Just think it over, it's all up to you!

Sausage-Banana Essay

Essay on the banana (by a Japanese schoolboy): The banana are great remarkable fruit. He are constructed in the same architectural style as the honorable sausage. Difference being skin of sausage are habitually consumed while it are not advisable to eat rapping of banana.

Perhaps are also intrinsing the following differences between the two objects:
Banana are held aloft while consuming; sausage are usually left reclining position.

Banana are first green in color, then gradual turn yellowish.
Sausage start out with indefinite color (resembling, rather cotta and retain same hue indefinitely). Sausage depend for creation upon human being or stuffing machine, while banana are pristine product of honorable mother nature. Both article resemble the other in that neither have pit or colonel of any kind.

In case of sausage, both conclusions are attached to other sausages, honorable banana on opposite hand are joined on one end to the stem, other termination are entirely loose.
Finally, banana are stricter member of the vegetable kingdom, while affiliation of sausage is often undetermined.

"DON'T HAVE TO" MERCHANT
DOESN'T GET VERY FAR
The bird who says "I don't have to advertise for everyone knows who I am, where I am, and what I sell," will never make any more than a living. The average shopper does not care who a merchant is, where he is, or what he sells. But, he does care about information as to cost of what he wants without wasting steps. So, Advertise.—The Life of the Town, Bellevue Falls, Vt.

Old men who work are usually happier than those who loaf. An old man hasn't such pleasant things to sit down and think about that he can have very much fun loafing. Some men are chronic failures because they are eternally trying to do something they can't do. But more of them get nowhere because instead of trying to do something they persist chiefly in doing nothing.

A distressing fatality took place in the Concord district Monday, August 24th, when John, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wiancho, met his death. Out playing, his mother called, but not receiving an answer, went out and found him standing dead between a wagon and the reach. It is presumed that he had fallen down, and broke his neck on the reach.—Ponoka Herald.

Farmers of Canada and the U.S. are being urged to co-operate to check a threatened grasshopper plague in 1932.
